Secure Audit Conducts Compliance Audits

Secure Audit makes your computer a storehouse for safe and secure data and information. It has never been so easy to be efficient, organized, and productive.

Identify Operational Issues

Secure Audit simplifies audits. You can easily create your own audits, questions, and scoring. Make and save as many audits as required within your organization, across departments, business units, and brands.

A robust auditing program can be key in identifying issues and areas needing improvement. Secure Audit provides a flexible foundation. With all your data centralized in one place, audits can be accessed by a click by any authorized user.

Compliance Reporting

KPI (key performance indicator) data can be imported from many sources and combined with Secure Audit data to build insightful reports using the ad hoc reporting tool. Reports, dashboards, heat maps, and benchmarking provide a powerful, easy to use, self-service tool, that gives you immediate visibility to areas that need improvement and allow you to make informed decisions. Automatic emailing to store, district, and regional managers makes sharing the information easy.

Audits That Get Results

What good is an audit with sketchy information or a confusing action plan? The simple user interface and sophisticated inner workings of Secure Audit makes it easy to collect and use robust information. Using the results of the current audit and historic information, you can create clear action plans and present them in an attractive, easy-to-understand format. You can also create automated reminders, so the changes are implemented and results are seen according to plan.

How Secure Audit Works

It reduces audit overhead by 25 percent by making the process easy and accurate. The solution offers full functionality on any computer, so that the end user can choose the most convenient tool. In the following example, the auditor uses a laptop.

1. On her office laptop, the audit manager uses Secure Audit to create an audit for a new format of store.
2. On-site the auditor uses Secure Audit to select and complete the audit form.
3. She takes several photos, records a short video, and quickly attaches them to the audit.
4. When she has completed the audit, she uses Secure Audit to create her final report, complete with easy-to-understand findings and action plans. The system automatically emails the report to the appropriate personnel.
5. The system automatically issues follow-up alerts to the store manager who updates his action plans as actions are completed.

Track Manager Performance

Some managers have the Midas touch, and others simply do not. Secure Audit tracks manager performance as they move store to store. With it, district and regional managers can recognize the top performers and identify those in need of coaching. At the store level, managers can update their action plans in real-time, even conducting self-audits and surveys. When managers are in top form, morale improves and turnover drops.
